

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PROEMIAL TO ELIOT'S ROMOLA.

More than three centuries and a half ago, in the mid springtime of 1492, we are sure that the star-quenching angel of the dawn, as he travelled with broad, slow wings from the Levant to the Pillars of Hercules, and from the summits of the Caucasus across all the snowy Alpine ridges to the dark nakedness of the western isles, saw the same outline of firm land and unstable sea --- saw the same great mountain shadows on the same valleys as he has seen to-day --- saw olive mounts and pine forests, and the broad plains, green with young corn or rain-freshened grass --- saw the domes and spires of cities rising by the river sides or mingled with the sedge-like masts on the many curved sea-coast, in the same spots where they rise to-day. And as the faint light of his course pierced into the dwellings of men, it fell, as now on the rosy warmth of nestling children; on the haggard waking of sorrow and sickness; on the hasty uprising of the hard-handed laborer; and on the late sleep of the night-student, who had been questioning the stars or the sages, or his own soul, for that hidden knowledge which would break through the barrier of man's brief life, and show its dark path that seemed to bend sometimes hither, to be an arc in an immeasurable circle of light and glory. The great river-courses which have shaped the lives of men have hardly changed at all; and those other streams, the life-currents that ebb and flow in human hearts, pulsate to the same great needs, and the same great loves and As our thought follows close in the slow

PROEM TO ELIOT'S ROMOLA.

Life had zest for the old Florentine when he, too, trod the marble steps and shared in those dignities. His politics had an area as wide as his trade, which stretched from Syria to Britain, but they had also the passionate intensity, and the detailed practical interest which could belong only to a narrow scene of corporate action; only to the members of a community shut in close by the hills and by walls of six miles' circuit, where men know each other as they passed in the street, set their eyes every day on memorials of their community, and were conscious of having not only the right to vote, but the chance of being voted for. He loved his I onors and his gains, the business of his trading-house and of his guild, of the council-chamber; he loved his enmities, too, and he fingered the white bean which was to keep a hated name out of the borsa with more complacency than if it had been a golden florin. He loved to strengthen his family by a good alliance, and went home with a triumphant light in his eyes after concluding a satisfactory marriage for his son or daughter, under his favorite loggia in the evening cool; and he loved his game at chess under that same loggia, and his biting jest and even his coarse joke, as not beneath the dignity of a man eligible for the highest magistracy. He had gained an insight into all sorts of affairs at home and abroad; he had been of the "Ten" who had for a large expenditure of effort and money in improving standard faces such as Romans, Antiques, Gothics, Clarendons, etc., not in the hope of immediate profit, but in pursuance of the policy of thoroughness, and in the belief that the discriminating Printer will select these improved faces in preference to those which still retain the defects of the originals. This work of improvement will be maintained in the future.

found that it was originated by some one of the Foundries of this Company. During the past year this Company has produced more effective designs in Type, Borders and Florets than ever before in a similar period. It would be tedious to name them, as they include over five hundred varieties of sizes and faces.

Notable Designs

Two recent series, however, deserve mention: Jenson Old Style, made in thirteen sizes, with appropriate initials and decorative pieces, and Bradley, in eight sizes, which will be important factors in lifting typography to a higher plane.

Better Value 888

This Company is able to sell at fair prices owing to the enormous output of its large Foundries, while the practical value of the Type made is greater, because of the superior cut of faces, the more complete range of sizes in series, and the application of its numerous mechanical patents in type manufacturing. Quality is not sacrificed to prices; the American Type Founders' Company has only one standard—the best.

AMERICAN WINTER OVERCOAT Secured the Greatest Bargains 35

One of the peculiar features of this series is, that the lower-case letters B, D, H, M, N, P, Q and Y can be used to represent Q, P, Y, W, U, B, D and H, and capital M makes W; figure 7 makes L, and figure 6 makes 9, — an important item for printer, when short of "sorts." The letters line both ways. Logotypes of each size are furnished.

NEW SIGNAL SERVICE SIGNS.

c 48-Point Signal Service Signs—Per font, $2.00.

No. 5 may be used to print in blue over No. 1, in case it is desired to have flag No. 2 represented in its proper color.

24-Point Signal Service Signs — Per font, $1.50.

EXPLANATION OF SIGNALS.—No. 1, White Flag, always indicates clear or fair weather, no rain. No. 2, Blue Flag, indicates rain or snow. No. 3, Black Triangular Flag, always refers to temperature; when placed above or before Nos. 1 or 2 it indicates warmer weather; when placed below or after Nos. 1 or 2 it indicates colder weather. No. 4, Cold Wave Flag, indicates the approach of a sudden and decided fall of temperature.

COPPER ALLOY FINE-DOT LEADERS.

These Leaders are cast with our superior Copper Alloy metal, and are therefore nearly as durable as Brass Leaders, while their cost is only about one third as much. They are cast on the following bodies, and to match any face of our make. Put up in any size fonts required.

New Bodies.	OLD BODIES.	Per pound.
6-Point	Nonpareil
7-Point	. Minion	58
8-Point	Brevier	55
9-Point	. Bourgeois	52
10-Point	Long Primer	50

DESIRABLE ADDITION TO A USEFUL SERIES.

We will not use the hackneyed phrase about "filling a long-felt want," in offering this 6-Point size of Caledonian Italic to our appreciative printer friends, but will give expression to the opinion that many of them, no doubt, have been wondering why so useful a face has never before been made on a smaller body than 8-Point (or Brevier). As no satisfactory reason could be given for the absence of this size, we have had it cut, and now solicit your commendation of it by giving us many orders for fonts of the same.
